"Many small people who in many small places do many small things can change the face the world"